"Building the City"

"the street shall be built again, and the wall, even in troublous times."

—DANIEL 9:25

IT was said of the times in which the British and Foreign Bible Society was founded that it was "one of the most remarkable designs of Providence that the thunder of universal war should have been the harbinger of the still small voice of the gospel of peace."*

From the purely human standpoint one could hardly imagine a less auspicious time for such a venture. England faced a threatened invasion. Napoleon's transports were already at the French Channel ports, and he awaited, so he said, only "six hours mastery of the Channel" in order to place his armies on British soil. England was an armed camp, and many doubted whether the hastily gathered forces, numbering all told about half a million men, could withstand the onslaught. Village churches kept at hand lengths of coloured bunting to be run up on the church tower at the first news of the approach of the enemy, and beacon fires crowned the hill tops of the southern counties. The Government had issued a pamphlet bearing the ominous title "Regulations for the Preservation of good order, to be adopted in case of actual invasion". But amid this "thunder of universal war" England was to strengthen herself with an invincible armour. She was to fulfil the primary law of spiritual increase by seeking to share with others her spiritual heritage. A body of men who believed that no human panacea could cure the ills of man, and that no greater service could be rendered the nation and the world than to provide in all languages the story of that freedom wherewith Christ hath made us free, met in a quiet room at the London Tavern on the 7th of March, 1804. With an amazing unanimity a new organization was formed "to encourage a wider circulation of the Holy Scriptures without note or comment." The original name suggested, "A Society for Promoting a More Extensive Circulation of the Scripture at Home and Abroad" was changed to the simpler title "The British and Foreign Bible Society", and so amid the anxieties and dangers of the times the Bible Society had its birth. That it met the needs of the times was evident from the first. The war itself was to provide priceless opportunities for service. Interned in England there were 30,000 prisoners of war, confined either in hulks moored in naval harbours, or in the great stone buildings built for them on the bleak stretches of Dartmoor. Grants were made for these unfortunate exiles, and the first distribution took place on December 23rd, 1805, two days before Christmas. The Scriptures were received, says the account "with thanks, with tears, with joy". National bitterness disappeared before this benign and potent influence. "They have contributed," wrote a French officer, "to sweeten the bitter cup which an inscrutable Providence has condemned us to drink;" and another wrote, "I should not do justice to my sentiments did I not declare my regret that my present situation did not permit me to have the honourable title of a member of such a Society." But war had prepared the way for such work still further afield. In 1793 the Goddess of Reason had been enthroned on the high altar of Notre Dame in Paris and Robespierre had officially given blasphemous sanction to "the existence of the Supreme Being." Infidel writings had exercised a wide and baleful influence, but men's hearts were not satisfied. At the time of the Bible Society's foundation the Goddess of Reason had been abolished, the ten day work period abandoned for the seven day week, and Sunday had been restored. But in 1802 the London Missionary Society could not find a single copy of the Bible in Paris. During the first decade of its history the Society made large grants for the reprint of French Scriptures and the fact that with the fall of Napoleon bitterness toward England rapidly subsided was due in part at least to the Society's work. In the two succeeding decades the Society was to spend over $375,000 on spreading the Scriptures among the French, and by the end of that period we find the armies of England and France fighting side by side in the Crimea. In the face of a Christian brotherhood national policies which are purely selfish can have small place.

And so in many a stormy period of war the Bible Society has sought to unite men's hearts in one common allegiance to the Saviour of the world, and in these present days of national peril and desperate need it still seeks to use the opportunity which war itself brings to arm all men with the sword of the Spirit, by which alone is attained true victory and true peace.

A babel of voices proclaims solutions for the troubles which beset us. New ideologies, nationalistic and materialistic aims, social and economic programmes have all been advocated. The futility of much of our boasted civilization is the answer to these claims. No "New Order" is worth the striving for unless it springs from that newness which comes from Him who makes "all things new".

War with its danger and its opportunity is on us again. Let us pray that the imminence of the danger will not obscure the greatness of the opportunity. "It will be of little use", says the London Times, "to fight as we are fighting today for the preservation of Christian principles if Christianity itself is to have no future; or at immense cost to safeguard religion against attacks from without if we allow it to be starved by neglect from within." Surely it may be said that in a special sense God has raised up this great Society for such times as these.

There will be multitudes whom the war will leave bereft and ruined. It may leave behind it a terrible legacy of hate and revenge. On the spread of the Christian Gospel will depend not only order and security, but whatever is possible of partnership and true fellowship among men. It is the high privilege of Christian democracy to uphold the ideal of a world brotherhood which is based upon a common Christian allegiance.

That the Upper Canada Bible Society can report for 1940 a year of increase both in its ordinary contributions, and also in its War Emergency Fund, is an assurance that in the cloudy and dark day men still turn to this ancient Book and gladly join in the labour of sharing it with others. During the past year over 140,000 copies of the New Testament have been distributed throughout the Dominion and Newfoundland to the Chaplains Services for those on active service. The Society's "service edition" with its message from His Majesty the King, must be provided as long as the war lasts.

Since the publication of our last report the Board has lost by death two of its oldest members.

Mr. George T. Lea became a director of the Society in 1919, and was for many years an active and devoted member of the Board. Mr. Lea was particularly interested in our colportage work and a great believer in the power of the printed Gospel to touch and enlighten a human heart. During late years, in failing health he still followed with interest and with prayer the Society's work. In his death the Society loses an old and a warm friend.

The Most Rev. J. F. Sweeny became a Vice-President of the Upper Canada Bible Society following his consecration as Bishop of Toronto in 1910. During his episcopate he followed with close interest the Society's work both here and throughout the world, and was frequently present at its public meetings. The work among Church of England people throughout the Auxiliary owes much to Archbishop Sweeny's strong and frequent commendation of the Society and its world-wide undertaking.

As we sympathize with those who mourn the loss of these servants of Christ, we also rejoice with them in the memory of the service rendered so gladly in the spread of His Kingdom.

Circulation within the Auxiliary reached a total of 103,416 volumes in 48 languages. One hundred and one volumes were issued in raised type for the blind. Demands for Scriptures in Ethiopic, Gaelic, Hindi, Persian, Syriac, Esperanto and Urdu to mention only a few, show how diversified are the language requirements within our territory. The decrease in circulation for the year is 44,011, but it must be remembered that our figures do not include the circulation of the "service edition" within our territory by the Chaplains Services. These figures would more than make up for the apparent decrease.

It has been a privilege very greatly valued for the Bible Society to be represented by its District Secretaries at the presentation of Scriptures provided by the War Emergency Fund for those in the active service forces of the Dominion. Navy, army and air force units are included in those supplied with the "service edition". Scriptures have also been supplied for the Norwegian Air Force at Toronto, and for the Netherland's Army training at Stratford.

Dr. Edwin W. Smith, formerly Editorial Superintendent in London, visited the Auxiliary in April, and the Board and friends of the Society had the pleasure of listening to him as he spoke from his long experience on the problems connected with translation and publication. Dr. Smith was for ten years the writer of the Popular Report of the Bible Society. Through the wide circulation of these reports Dr. Smith's work is known to many in Canada. He is to deliver a course of lectures at the Kennedy School of Missions in Hartford, Conn., and has been elected a member of the Board of the American Bible Society.

By generous contribution to the funds of the Society, as well as by help with the difficult task of widening the circle of Bible Society friends, the Women's Auxiliary has again rendered valuable and much appreciated service.

It will be a matter not only of deep satisfaction, but also of amazement that with war raging in both Europe and Asia the Parent Society in London reports an increase of 724,000 volumes in its world-wide circulation. The total exceeded eleven and a half million volumes. In both Italy and Germany there were notable increases in Scripture circulation. In the former the figures rose to a total of 177,000 volumes—an increase of 26,000. In Germany the circulation was 232,000. This more than doubled that of the previous year and is the largest increase recorded in any European country. Increases were recorded in Czechoslovakia, Poland (from 54,000 to 135,000) Portugal, France, Belgium. In China the circulation rose ten per cent to a total of 2,296,000, and, says the report, "the demand exceeded the supply." While these figures will be amazing to many, they will not be unexpected to those who are familiar with the history of the Bible Society in difficult times.

In Canada and Newfoundland Scripture circulation totalled 385,000 volumes. This represents an increase of 79,000, due in large measure to the supply of "service editions" for the navy, army and air force.

OUR AGENCY WORK

A year of increased income, and loyal co-operation and help, is evidence of the willing and effective service rendered in the great cause of Scripture distribution by collectors and officers of branches within the Upper Canada Bible Society. The increase of $2,547.82 in income from contributions alone is particularly significant because it is the seventh annual increase in succession.

We received $5,690.94 for the War Emergency Fund. This is also an increase over last year's contributions for this special purpose, and overpays the share so far assumed by the Upper Canada Bible Society of the general War Emergency Fund for the Dominion and Newfoundland.

The usual Bible Sundays were held in Toronto in March and December, and the days set apart were very widely observed. We are deeply indebted to the many ministers who co-operated with us.

The use of the moving picture projector is now in its third year and has proved to be in many ways a successful and effective instrument of propaganda. There is, however, some difficulty in obtaining suitable films.

The use of collection boxes is still in the experimental stage, but there is already evidence of their usefulness. The number in circulation has increased to 350.

During the year we have tried for the first time the use of coin folders. Two thousand were printed and placed judiciously. The method is new within this Auxiliary and it is too early to judge how widely it can wisely be used; however, from those already filled and returned, it is evident that this new method, if used with care, will fill a real need.

The sincere thanks of the Auxiliary is due to those who in the midst of numerous appeals, and often in the face of difficult financial conditions have helped us so faithfully and so generously. The increase in our income comes from all types of branches—large as well as small, and to all who are linked with our work, ministers, officers and collectors, we would say, Thank you.—Well done.

OUR COLPORTAGE WORK

Among the fifteen Auxiliaries of the British and Foreign Bible Society in this Dominion probably none have a more varied population in language, creed, interests and occupations, than the communities in which the Colporteurs of the Upper Canada Bible Society labour. The Colporteurs of this Auxiliary have proved themselves over a period of many years to be tactful and energetic workers, able to adapt themselves to these wide changes.

Following the proved policy of the Colportage Committee our regular Colporteurs during the past summer and autumn were transferred from the more or less routine canvass in the southern portions of our territory, with its industrial wealth, to the more needy northern sections, covering the cosmopolitan mining and lumbering camps, and penetrating to the remotest village or settlement. The inspiration brought into the lives of many by a visit from our consecrated and courageous carriers of the precious Book is reflected in one of their recent reports:—"I am now becoming fairly well known in these outlying districts and many have told me how they look forward to my visits not only as an opportunity to procure the precious Word of God, which they certainly appreciate, but also for the fellowship and Christian help, God has enabled me to give. Those who have been isolated in some of these out of the way places can more fully appreciate what this means. I have also had many opportunities of speaking in the smaller places."

Our five Colporteurs, Messrs. W. H. Forsythe, J. A. Harvey, F. T. Kennaby, C. L. Rumball and H. S. Sanders report a splendid total of 28,322 visits during the year, circulating 23,446 copies of the Scriptures in 47 languages, representing sales of $13,242.84.

The war has recently claimed one of our Colporteurs, Mr. W. H. Forsythe, who has temporarily laid aside his Colportage duties to don the uniform of the R.C.A.F. His work during his absence is being ably carried on in part by his energetic wife. We wish him God's richest blessing in his new duties and a safe return to the work he holds so dear.

The following further quotations from the monthly reports of our Colporteurs tell their own story: "At an Italian home just out of they told me they had been Roman Catholics, but now had found liberty, joy and peace in Jesus. I sold a good Italian Bible and two English Bibles. They related how much sin and wickedness there was in that neighborhood, but they now have a happy God-fearing home, thanks to the Bible. Another humble home where the income was meagre and every cent had to be put to good advantage, purchased two good Bibles saying it was a good investment. In another poor home a young boy just converted gave of his first earned money to buy a Bible.

One meets in daily visiting all kinds of homes and people, those who look with serious eyes on world conditions. It gives us quite an opportunity to present Christ to them and the result is often cause for joy. The French Bible ordered is for a Frenchman who cannot read very well in the English, he is apparently much aroused and now wishes to read the Word of God for the first time for himself. We trust he will be led to the Saviour of whom it testifies. Some Christians too, seem to be growing more interested in the circulation of the Scriptures and are buying Gospels, etc., to mail in parcels to the war affected lands.

I have spent considerable time canvassing among the poorest families and in out of the way places. I have had several experiences of men coming to me on the street, on seeing the van, wanting to buy the Scriptures. A half-breed Indian told me to call back the next day. In the meantime he went out fishing and caught enough fish to be able to buy a Bible. His wife told me that he could not have bought the Bible if he had not caught the fish.

We found, as a number of ministers in this needy section had informed us, that all summer most of the people are on relief and in very poor circumstances. It was difficult to sell anything but the cheapest copies of the Scriptures. Some men make a little cash on the sale of bait to tourists. It was somewhat touching to see a man spend hours catching worms then after selling them buy a cheap Testament for a little girl. We had the privilege of sowing, in many such places, the Good Seed. Many go to no place as far as churches are concerned, and the young people know as little about Christ as the benighted natives of the Congo. I enjoyed the month in that region and feel from a spiritual aspect it was worth while.

At the end of a narrow lane through a dense bush, stands a small log cabin. Here I showed a Bible to the wife, pointing out the desirability of this particular edition—the large print, low cost, and durability. Her husband overheard me, and came out, saying he would like to purchase the Bible, but had not sufficient money. Eventually, he and his two adult sons made up the price between them. The father had fallen off a haystack that day and looked very pale under the tan. I wondered if the fall had helped the sale of the Bible. The man told me that a missionary had given him his present Bible fifty years ago. It was worn out, but looked like one of ours. That evening I kept an engagement to dinner with a one-time C.I.M. Missionary, long resident in the district. When I described the incident, she said that about fifty years ago her sister was home on furlough from China. She had spoken to this man, who was then unmarried, about his soul's salvation, and had given him the Bible. Her family always bought from the Bible Society, so I was right in thinking it was one of our Bibles.

I have canvassed some very difficult country among very poor people and, in other sections, where there is great indifference to the Word of God. I have spent much time in outlying places, sometimes back in the bush. I have found many in dire need of God's Word. Canvassing among the farmers in the district, I called on two elderly bachelors living in a tiny one-room shack. One of the men bought a large type New Testament which he could read with ease. In the same district, I met some Czechoslovakians, one of these women bought a Slovak Gospel and the children bought several English Gospels.

An earnest little lady of 93, a mother of missionaries, on her daughter's suggestion, bought a good quality Bible for her great-grandchild of one month old. This lady will likely have passed on by the time the child can read, but her good deed will remain to influence the life of the little girl.

I visited a man in who through my visit last spring turned to the Lord. His wife told me that their home is so different now. They bought three good type Bibles from me.

Near I had the pleasure of meeting a young lady I sold a Bible to ten years ago, she was then just a wee girl of eight years and picked berries and ran errands all summer in order to save enough to buy the Bible of her choice. I mentioned this on my report then as I thought she was a modern "Mary Jones". She still has her treasured Bible and by making it the guide of her life has developed into a fine happy Christian.

Calling at a house near the woman told me that she had become a Christian through a Bible she had bought from me several years before. I think it is about nine years. When I had inquired as to whether or not she had a Bible, she had told me that she didn't and that she hadn't the money on hand to buy one. She said she would like to have one and as her husband had employment, I told her to keep the Bible and I would call for the money sometime when I was passing. Through this Bible she came to the Lord Jesus Christ as her personal Saviour and Lord."

So, in these anxious and troublous days the Colporteur brings this message of cheer to all who read His Word "That we through patience and comfort of the Scriptures might have hope" (Rom. 15:4).

Colportage in Foreign Lands

To those interested in some particular mission field, we commend the following list of names and places. It represents those in this Auxiliary who are supporting colportage work in foreign lands. The Upper Canada Bible Society has always sought to do not only the work lying ready to its hand within its own area, but to share in the world-wide work of evangelism through the spread of Holy Scripture. In addition to maintaining five colporteurs in its own territory, the support of 27 is undertaken personally by individual contributors, or by Sunday schools or groups of missionary-hearted friends. These colporteurs labour in India, China, Manchuria (Manchuko) and Korea. With some thousand others, under the direction of the great Parent Society in London, they form a band of consecrated and devoted workers who literally girdle the earth.

The cost of an individual colporteur varies between $60.00 and $125.00 yearly. The Society can arrange to have a colporteur set apart in any chosen field and his personal reports come to those undertaking his support. The Parent Society needs more help with this useful and important work, and appeals to all who can assist it in answering the cry of a spiritually hungry world. Particulars can be obtained by writing to the Upper Canada Bible Society, 14 College Street, Toronto.

The following is a list of those who have undertaken to support an individual colporteur in some specified mission field:—
